And Country

Happenings In Harrisburg 30 Years Ago

BORN 30 YEARS TOO SOON, the cartoon, Out Our Way, reads sometimes. And Ol' Timmo got to wondering just what was going on those thirty years ago.

So to the files of The Daily Register I went, and picked up some current items of May, 1927:

"Naming the winner of the $200 prize offered by the Harrisburg Packing Co. for a trade name and slogan," one story started, "Ural Tuttle, president of that company, stated at cooking school yesterday that James Richard 'Dick' Cook will receive a check for that amount provided a copyright to the name and slogan can be secured. The name already has been sent to Washington, D. C., for registration. "Dick submitted a neat design into the engraving appropriate to the name, 'Hickory Tone, Good from the Rind to the Bone.'"

Saw where the Harrisburg Bull Dogs with 37½ points were second in the Southern Illinois track and field meet at Hurst. West Frankfort won with 44½.

Harrisburg won points as follows:

Miller, third in 50 yard dash and third in low hurdles; Lambert first in 220 yard dash and second in 100; South first in high hurdles; Smith fourth in high hurdles; Rice second and Claybrooks third in discus; Grigsby third in high jump; Wunderlich fourth in the 440; and Harrisburg 880-yard relay team third.

A news item from Springfield announced the purchase by the State of Illinois of Horse Shoe lake and the island inside of it.

Madge Bellamy was starring at the Orpheum in "Ankles Preferred."

A new city council had just gone into office and here are the first two paragraphs of the council story following the meeting:

"Four years is too short a term to plan and complete all the improvements wanted for Harrisburg by the new city council. They had laid out for them almost ten years of work at the first council meeting Saturday afternoon.

"One group wanting drainage, two more wanting pavement, another wanting improved traffic regulations and another wanting increased police protection were

Historical Society Sees Area Films; Webster Tells of Early Trails

The Saline County Historical society held its regular meeting Tuesday at the Mitchell-Carnegie library in Harrisburg.

The program began with the singing of "Illinois" and "America, the Beautiful," with Miss Michael Foster the accompanist.

Roll call was given with each member and guests responding with the naming of their favorite spot of beauty or history in southern Illinois. Bell Smith Springs seemed to be the favorite scenic place.

President Louis Aaron gave an interesting report on the annual meeting of the Illinois State Historical society at Macomb, which he and Mrs. Aaron attended May 3-4. They were privileged to visit Nauvoo, Ill., while in that area. Nauvoo was the home of the early Mormons around 1839-1845. The Arons met a grandson of Joseph Smith and a grandson of Brigham Young who reside there.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hatfield had earlier given a large number of lovely and useful cups for use during the society's social hour. These were presented and gratefully acknowledged at this time.

The showing of a film in color depicting the beauty and some of the history of southern Illinois, made and narrated by William Farley, was next on the program.

Teen Towners Clean Streets In Early Hours

Many Harrisburg teenagers got their first look at the Harrisburg square at four o'clock in the morning when they invaded the uptown area early today to do some cleaning work.

Approximately fifty between the ages of 13 and 19, inclusive, showed up along with Louis Murphy, president of the Senior council of the Teen Town organization, to which the youngsters belong. They reported in good shape at 4 a. m. on the court house lawn.

Using brooms furnished by the city street department and hose furnished by the fire department, young arms got busy cleaning up the streets. They worked all around the square and a block in each direction from the square.

The debris was trucked off to the city dump.

This was a good-will gesture by the Teen Town organization in the form of a community project.

Next Saturday the Teen Town group plans a project designed to put money into the Teen Town treasury.

The members plan to wash cars at $1.50 a car to get cash to finance the Teen Town organization and the goal is 150 cars. Plans are to do the work on College street in front of the high school.

Teen Town has 190 members.

Those who had seen Mr. Farley's earlier movies of this region were unprepared for the breathtaking beauty shown in his last film. From Battery Rock on the Ohio and following the Sky Line drive to Tower Rock on the Mississippi, a panorama of beauty opened up.

Then to either side of this drive Mr. Farley had filmed beauty in every season of the year and many varied places. Among the places filmed were Battery Rock, Old Stone Face, Garden of the Gods, Anvil Rock, Camel Rock, Burden Falls, Bell Smith Springs, Golconda, Fern Clyffe, Dixon Springs, Horseshoe Lake, Cairo and the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, Fort Massac.

Stress Career Opportunities During National Hospital Week, May 12-19

Career opportunities for young people in the hospital field, where a personnel shortage exists today in spite of great increases in both payroll and the number of employees, will be emphasized during National Hospital Week, May 12-19.

P. E. Nyberg, administrator of the Harrisburg Medical Foundation, said today that the total hospital personnel in the nation increased 57 per cent in the past ten years, while the number of hospital beds rose only 12 per cent.

Hospitals in Harrisburg and the area join with others throughout the United States and Canada in observing National Hospital Week by attempting to interest the people of the community in hospital careers. The theme of the week, sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association, is "Careers That Count."

Rev. E. H. Moore Severely Hurt In Auto Accident

The Rev. E. H. Moore of Carbondale, associate executive secretary of the Illinois State Baptist association, is in Doctors hospital at Carbondale following an auto accident near Murphysboro Thursday morning in which he was severely injured. Reports are that he suffered a broken back.

The Rev. Moore, 40, was injured when his car went over a 30-foot embankment five miles west of Murphysboro on Rt. 144.

Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Arch Edwards said the Rev. Moore apparently lost control of his car on the wet pavement. No other car was involved.

Benson May Fight House Bloc For Farm Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson may decide to battle the congressional economy bloc for his farm budget.

Benson pondered whether to do so after the economy-bent House Appropriations Committee Friday cut deeply into his farm budget for next year.

Aides said Benson, who was severely criticized in the committee's report, may issue a statement next week before the House votes on the pared down bill.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, chairman of the House Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee, said the committee's action was "sound" and predicted it would be upheld by the House.

The Democratic-controlled committee lopped $272,556,860 from Benson's request for $3,682,889,757. Informants said committee Republicans made little protest.

Most of the cuts were made in soil bank funds. The group approved 765 million of the one billion dollars requested, contending the program had not held down farm output appreciably.

Other congressional news:

ATOMS: Sens. John Bricker (R-Ohio) and John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said they still are not convinced that the United States should join a world organization to carry out President Eisenhower's atoms - for - peace program. They made the remarks after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles defended the organization before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday. The committee called Atomic Energy Commission chief Lewis L. Strauss to testify Tuesday.

DEW LINE: The Air Force has told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that the Distant Early Warning Line will be "substantially" completed in another seven weeks and ready for operation "soon." The Dew Line, stretched across the top of North America to provide alerts of any Russian bomber attacks, will cost $20 million dollars — 120 million more than previous estimates.

$900,000 Crusade

Dr. Billy Graham Arrives in New York For Revival at Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham arrives here today to spend 6½ weeks in a $900,000 religious crusade because a spiritual awakening in New York "will make an impact on the entire nation."

"The Billy Graham New York Crusade" will be the evangelist's most expensive series of meetings, his 35-man headquarters announced.

The series will double a 1954 record cost of $450,000 for 12 weeks of appearances in London, one of Billy's press spokesmen said. Much of the money has already been raised through various donations.

The biggest single outlay for the crusade will be $360,000 rent for Madison Square Garden, he said. The evangelist is scheduled to preach there nightly from Wednesday until the end of June.

If the evangelist fulfills his schedule, he will have tied up the Garden, which advertises itself as "the world's most versatile stage," for six days, more than the 40-day Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus run earlier this spring.

"The Holy Spirit directed Paul to move his base of operations from Jerusalem to Antioch," Graham told his followers. "Antioch was the crossroads of the world, a melting pot of nations . . . and people who were brought to Christ under Paul's ministry spread the good news to the ends of the earth."

"If there is a spiritual awakening in New York, it will make an impact on the entire nation," he said. How much impact there will be could be affected by growing controversy over the handsome, crowd-drawing evangelist's methods. First Roman Catholic and then other clergymen have advised their flocks not to attend the gatherings.

Rackets Group to Investigate Beck Demands on Trailer Company

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor Rackets Committee next week will investigate what Dave Beck demanded of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. after lending it $1,500,000 of his Teamster Union's funds.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters today the inquiry will not be aimed at the loan itself, which was announced long ago, but "what occurred after that."

He said the investigation did not necessarily imply wrongdoing by Fruehauf. The loan was repaid with interest in 14 months.

Beck himself is expected to return to the witness chair next week and be given a chance to explain detailed charges that he used his power with the union to line his pockets.

The Teamster boss already has pleaded the Fifth Amendment 150 times before the committee rather than answer questions. However, he said late Friday in a press release that the union's investments under his guidance have shown a steadily increasing yield.

At the same time the committee was disclosing Beck's financial dealings, Teamster "crown prince" James R. Hoffa, lost a fight in federal court to quash bribery and conspiracy charges against him.

But he won a 21-day postponement of his trial that was set for May 27. Some of the deals disclosed this week fell in the period beginning in 1954 when the committee has said Beck, deep in income tax trouble, raised money to replace part of the $322,000 that he is charged with taking from Teamster treasuries.

The committee charged last March that Beck agreed to repay at least $200,000 to the union, then tried to borrow that sum from Fruehauf. The firm couldn't spare it but arranged a loan for Beck from Brown Trailer & Equipment Co. of Chicago.

Then to help repay Brown, Beck sold back to the union for $163,000 the home in which he still lives rent-free and which the union helped pay for in the first place, the committee said.

Old Comrades in Arms to Tour Battlefield

Both are Deeply Interested in Civil War Battle

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two old comrades-in-arms today hoped to roam the great Gettysburg battlefield together sometime this week end.

One was President Eisenhower. The other was British Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, victor over Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel's Afrika Corps and now deputy commander of North Atlantic Treaty Forces.

The President planned to fly from the capital to his Gettysburg farm shortly after breakfast. Montgomery, who spent the night at the White House, planned either to accompany the President or drive to the farm later in the day with Mrs. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower scheduled the early morning flight in hopes of possibly getting in an early round of golf—his third round this week.

But the principal business of the weekend was expected to be long hours of talk between the President and his old World War II comrade and the tour of the nearby Civil War battlefield.

Both Eisenhower and Montgomery as professional soldiers are deeply interested in the great battle that became the high water mark of the Confederacy. Ironically another student of the battle was Rommel.

The President long ago promised Montgomery a personally conducted tour of the battlefield. However, the two generals differ in their thinking about the battle.

Eisenhower, a strong admirer of Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee, once said Lee lost the battle for the most part because of poor logistics and lack of the breaks.

Montgomery said Thursday night in a speech at Baltimore, that he has been "reading up" on the battle in preparation for his visit.

He said that after the battle he "personally would have sacked" both Gen. George H. Meade, the Union commander, and Lee.

Oil Workers Testify at Duvall Inquest

Two men who were working with Clint Edward Duvall when he fell from an oil field derrick and the embalmer who prepared Duvall's body testified Friday night at the inquest into the Carmi man's death.

The jury, after hearing the inquest, returned the verdict that Duvall died of injuries received in a fall the night of May 9 while working for the Atlas Drilling Co. at the Dick Gann No. 2 operation, death occurring the same night in the Harrisburg hospital.

Coroner James Thornton conducted the inquest, held in the Saline county court house. Workers who testified were Elmer Sexton and James Blackford, both of Carmi, who told of Duvall going up the derrick elevator, and of not looking up until Duvall was already falling.

He struck steel apparatus at the end of the fall, they testified.

Remel Fair, embalmer at the Kittinger funeral home in Carmi, said it was his opinion that Duvall died of shock due to a probable skull fracture and to internal hemorrhaging.

HARRISBURG JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL girls will graduate with the Class of 1957 in white pique dresses, made as the major sewing project in their home economics class. The pattern selected for this year has a "V" neck, fitted waist, full skirt and there is a bow in the back. The first two members of the graduating class to complete their dresses were Rose Smirnes, left, and Sally Davenport, shown with the home economics instructor, Miss Barbara Thompson. There are 75 girls in the eighth grade and most of them have finished with their dresses. Miss Thompson stated the first part of the school term was spent in teaching the use of sewing machines, then work of making their graduation dresses started in mid-January. Making their graduation dresses in home economics class has been a practice at the Harrisburg Junior high school for many years. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Secretary Benson, Who Abolished Nurseries, Now Becomes A Tree-Lover; He Wants Farmers To Plant 5-000,000 Acres Of Trees; Big-City Mayors Can't Get Heard Against Natural Gas Bill.

WASHINGTON. — Ezra Taft Benson has run into trouble on his somersault on tree-growing.
First he killed all government nurseries; now he is urging more money for nurseries. The trouble comes primarily from his fellow Republicans.

Shortly after he became secretary of agriculture, Ezra junked
all Department of Agriculture nurseries. He claimed it was not the job of the government to grow trees, and he turned the nurseries over to the states — even if the states didn't want them.

At Winona, Minn., Benson gave a thriving U. S. nursery to the state of Minnesota. The state proceeded to remove all trucks, tools, tractors, the overhead irrigation system and some of the choice nursery stock. Then Minnesota abandoned the site.

The site is now owned by the Winona Sand and Gravel Co., which purchased the once-thriving U. S. government nursery for the bargain price of $3,000. The price included a butter building valued at $12,000, plus all irrigation equipment that could not be moved, including a pump, motor,
etc., plus other minor buildings.

In brief, the nursery which once grew thousands of trees is now a gravel pit.
But three years later, when Secretary Benson started his soil bank plan, he suddenly discovered he would need trees.

REPUBLICANS OBJECT
So, because it's too late to start U. S. nurseries and because he doesn't want to reverse himself that much, Benson is now pumping $6,000,000 of federal funds into state nurseries whether the states want the money or not.

Benson is giving the $6,000,000 in direct grants to the states, without any matching funds, a policy directly contrary to the Eisenhower policy of making the states put up matching money for federal aid.

The House Appropriations subcommittee, discovering what Benson was doing, objected. They found that the grants were made by the secretary of agriculture himself.

"Why did you oppose such subsidies in 1955," asked Congressman Budge of Idaho, "yet now you have them in the budget?"

Congressman Jensen of Iowa also objected. He doubted whether the Agriculture Department had legal authority to subsidize state nurseries to sell trees at below
cost to farmers.

The plan for U. S. funds for state nurseries is going ahead anyway, with the expectation that farmers will plant 5,000,000 acres
in trees under the soil bank plan.
Actually farmers have signed contracts to plant only 7 per cent of that number in 1956-57. Since 1940 farmers have planted only 10,000,000 acres of trees, and their rate of planting prior to the soil bank had reached about 1,000,000 acres per year.

So they will have to do a lot of planting to hit 5,000,000 acres per year any time in the near future.

MAYORS GET THE RUN-AROUND

Eleven U. S. mayors who oppose a new natural gas bill have been getting the silent run-around from Rep. Oren Harris (D., Ark.), chairman of the House Commerce committee which is now hearing testimony on the 1957 natural gas bill.

The new version of the bill, endorsed by President Eisenhower at a recent press conference, is basically the same as the Harris
bill the President vetoed a year ago.

Southwestern natural gas producers, who seek greater freedom in raising prices, had their day in court this week before the Harris committee. Next week opponents of the bill are slated to appear.

However, Harris has been reluctant to schedule the "U. S.
mayors committee on natural gas legislation," which yields the weightiest influence against the Harris bill. Headed by New York City Mayor Robert Wagner, it speaks for 12,000,000 gas consumers, most of whom don't want their monthly gas payments raised.

Chairman Harris has delayed granting the mayors a specific time to testify next week, simply saying he's too busy to consider the matter.

On May 2 Mayor Richardson
Dilworth of Philadelphia wrote to Harris to request a chance for the mayors to testify. He was told to submit a list of their names and replied on May 3.

"When all requests have been received," wrote Dilworth, "we believe the total will be some 15 to 20, and their statements will not exceed 15 minutes each.

"I am sure you realize, however, that no list can be provided to you with any finality, as it is not possible for us to arrange the trips of these gentlemen from all over the country, burdened as they are with heavy municipal duties, unless the days on which they may appear are known to them in advance . . .

"The views of these mayors,
representing as they do millions of gas customers, should be of great interest to your committee,
and I am confident we will receive your full cooperation in arranging a suitable schedule for their appearance."

Unfortunately, Mayor Dilworth's
confidence was not justified. Harris continued to stall, explaining that his week's hearings have taken all his time.

IKE AND LABOR

President Eisenhower is holding up a special labor message he intended to send Congress until his advisers can make up their minds what to do about the Senate revelations on labor racketeering.

Ike is impatient to recommend strong legislation and has complained to the palace guard that the Democrats are getting all the credit for cleaning up the unions.
However, Secretary of Labor Mitchell has warned him not to recommend legislation that might be too drastic.

Ike still wants to send up a strong labor message condemning corruption and has ordered Attorney General Brownell to come up with some positive proposals.

Note—Senator Ives of New York has privately recommended that the Senate Rackets committee turn its labor investigation over to a special commission. Otherwise, the Senate will spend years figgling into 30,000 leads from labor unions which have poured in to the committee. The Senate's job, Ives claims, is to pass legislation to correct labor racketeering, then let a special commission handle
the cleanup.

agricultural irrigation held recently at Crab Orchard Lake.

Irrigation Clinic, Demonstration in Gallatin County Friday, July 12

A new way of thinking in farming irrigation is being developed through necessity created by recurring dry years in southern Illinois. As a result there is now in operation 65 irrigation units,
among the closest to Saline county being one in Gallatin county and another in Franklin county, the third at DeSoto.

Because of the plentitude of streams from which irrigation could be engineered in the southern Illinois area, Ridgway and the Lawrence Rollman farm at the mouth of the Little Wabash river
in Gallatin county have been chosen for an irrigation clinic and demonstration on Friday, July 12th.

Owners of land on which there are abandoned strip mines could profitably attend this meeting,
which is expected to be the largest of its kind ever held in Illinois.
Possibilities of profit through use of water in abandoned mine strips is pointed up by irrigation authorities who point to an outstanding unit near DeSoto, Ill.

There on apparently worthless
land of an abandoned strip mine
Joe Maroni has developed 50 acres of strawberry crops, irrigated from the strip pits, on which his return amounted to $150,000 last year. In Franklin county between Benton
and West Frankfort Lester Mygatt, Franklin county soil conservation chairman, has four acres of strawberries which produced a $60,000
crop last year.

Authoritative speakers will have more to say about these and other irrigation units in southern Illinois and the possibilities of this area because of its plentiful supply of rivers, branches and strip pits.

Jones & Son's Farm Store and Elevator at Ridgway installed the irrigation system on the Rollman farm and are installing two in White county this year. Through them and the Ridgway Chamber of Commerce the irrigation clinic
and demonstration is being planned with the Olin Mathieson Co.
supplying major speakers.

These will include Dr. D. G.
(Jerry) Williams, one of the foremost irrigation engineers in the United States, and Victor Sheldon.

Expert Coming
Here Again.

R. K. Shallenberger

Nationally known expert will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Colonial Hotel, Harrisburg, Wednesday, May 15th, from 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Shallenberger says the Shallenberger method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture
and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Shallenberger Rupture
Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solledied.

Do not overlook this opportunity
if you want gratifying results.

THE BLIZZARD OF '88

Think what a nickel would buy in 1888—a shoe shine, a bag of candy, a streetcar ride, a good cigar, or a Deadwood Dick story. It looked respectable on the collection plate at church and made a generous week's allowance for Junior.

Those were the good old days, provided of course you stayed well. If grandpa came in with wet feet from the great blizzard of '88 and caught pneumonia, he was in expensive trouble. The family was so thankful when he passed the crisis after 10 days that no one complained about nursing bills and lost earnings. Then grandpa went to a warm climate for a while, as the doctor advised, and that used up the rest of the family savings. Health hazards were lying in wait, winter and summer, in '88. It wasn't cheap to be sick when trouble dragged on and on. Today's physicians have new weapons against disease, including powerful drugs that shorten the course of many illnesses. They are life-savers—and money-savers, too.

GOP Sets Sights On South in '58

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Southern Republican leaders mapped strategy today at the close of a 12-state conference here to capture control of Dixie from the Democrats.

The call for an all-out fight in every congressional district of the South was issued by President Eisenhower and top GOP leaders who are setting their sights on the 1958 election.

Delegates to the conference, fourth in a series of six to tap grass roots opinion and strengthen state organizations, heard an address Friday by President Eisenhower speaking by telephone from Washington.

The President urged a determined campaign in each district of the southern states in the 1958 election, and noted that the Democrats can no longer lay claim to "the solid South."

Earlier GOP National Committee Chairman Meade ALCORN had told the southern Republicans that the party is prepared to furnish all available aid in setting up full-time campaign organizations.

Giant City, Fort Gage, Fort Chartres and many others.

Another film made by the Department of Conservation was shown. This featured the state parks of Illinois and it was very educational and interesting.

E. B. Webster gave a talk on "Early Trails of Southern Illinois." He traced them from their early origin as trails made and followed by the Indians and most often located on high ridges. These were used by the white man later, and as the need and time arose, were made into roadways for use of vehicles.

He mentioned the three trails leading out of Shawneetown, one of which was the Kaskaskia Trail. It went from Shawneetown to Equality, through Eldorado, west of Raleigh, through Galatia on beyond Rileyville, along the north line of Williamson county, by Jordan Fort and then westward to Jackson county and on into Randolph county where Kaskaskia is located.

Mr. Webster also gave a short summary of the condition of banking around 1936. He cited the Bank of Bolton (Stonefort) and explained the purchase of bonds from Missouri, Louisiana, Tennessee and Virginia by this bank, and how worthless they later became. The term "script" was also explained. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Ownly Furman and her committee, Mrs. L. I. Webb and Mrs. E. B. Webster.

Mt. Carmel Man Fatally Injured in Auto-Truck Crash

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Ronald J. Gambrell, 40, Mount Carmel, Ill., was fatally injured early Saturday when his car collided with a gasoline truck on a bridge four miles west of Mount Vernon.

Gambrell was rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital in Mount Vernon, where he died several hours later.

Kenneth Jurgen, Belleville, Ill., driver of the truck, was not hurt, although the impact of the collision sent Gambrell's car midway through a railing on the bridge.

Firemen from Mount Vernon sped to the scene to forestall possible explosion of the gasoline in Jurgen's semi-trailer.

CAPTAIN EASY

Stranded

BY LESLIE TURNER

LIL ABNER

By Al Capp

The Rare Adventure

by BERNARD FERGUSON

Copr. 1954 by Bernard Edward Fergusson. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

DATES BING—Hollywood is talking about the dates Bing Crosby had with Pat Sheehan, above, during his recent visit to Las Vegas. "Inseparable" is the word Hollywood uses for the crooner and the Tropicana show girl.

THE STORY: Allan and Mollie Lark, visiting at Seknou, an island off Tunisia, have taken refuge in the gendarmerie along with other Europeans during a native uprising. At first Captain Billon believed the Larks had something to do with the uprising, since a relative made Seknou his headquarters 200 years ago, while operating as a pirate.

XV

Allan told him of the men he had seen on the town gate, and of their bandoliers and rifles. "Have you any idea of what they may have in the way of arms?" he asked.

"We found a dump of rifles and grenades last spring, in a cave on the hill," said Billon, "and we caught a small boat last year heading for Clusium with 60 rifles and ammunition in it. In other words, we know that there has been smuggling, and we presume there must be a good many weapons about which we have not found."

Brisebarre spoke in English. "About 2 o'clock this afternoon a party of about a dozen armed men came to the airfield building. (They are only a couple of huts and a petrol store.) They halted when they saw my two policemen, but they sent in a man holding a white handkerchief above his head to talk. I called to him that if he came any nearer I would shoot, and he went back to his friends. They talked together for a little, and then they went away; but then they began pulling great stones onto my runways. I did not think I could stop them with my two policemen, and soon they were joined by more men, not many of whom were armed. By 4 o'clock the runways were quite unusable. I was able to get El Aoulina airfield at Tunis on my radio, and warn them that the airfield was now out of action."

Twenty minutes later the sun had dropped, and only a flare of pale blue spread across the heavens behind the hill from south to north. Upon the balcony the sentries peered out into the night, alert and silent. The searchlights were still dark and hooded at each angle of the building. It was Allan who suggested to Brisebarre that they would do well to go and eat. The two stole quietly into the stairway, and went down to the ground floor, where Allan sought out Mollie.

"Are you there, my darling?" he said. "Come and feed your starving husband, and meet our new recruit, Monsieur Brisebarre."

Brisebarre kissed Mollie's hand, and was quickly in ecstasies at her French; but in response to Allan's pleading they reverted to English as they passed through into the cookhouse and were each given a large bowl of soup, some bread, and some meat garnished with semolina and lentils.

"I'm worried about poor Pere Paleologue," said Mollie, and Brisebarre broke off eating, thunderstruck.

"Yes, Paleologue, where is he? Is he not here?"

"No, he insisted on going back to his church."

"The bloody fool! I must say. But that is dangerous. There are many people here who love Paleologue, and he loves the Seknougais. But there are many people here who are against Paleologue. For he is like Pere de Foucauld; however much he loves the people, he is French—first and all the time; he is a builder for France, and the Seknougais know it. He is not safe."

"Oh, dear," said Mollie. "One would never know with Paleologue," said Brisebarre, "whether he knew there was danger or not. You could never tell with Pere de Foucauld. Paleologue is like Pere de Foucauld in many ways. He too was a cavalry officer."

"Was he?" said Allan and Mollie together; and Allan added, "A regular?"

"Yes; he was at St. Cyr in 1914, in the famous promotion that marched out en cascos et gants blancs with their feather plumes and white gloves; the Promotion of the Great Revenge, it was called. But he became a priest soon after the war."

Allan took his place by Billon, his elbows on the parapet; there was no moon, and the sky was too dark for their silhouettes to show.

One thought had crossed Allan's mind, and he would have consulted Billon about it if he had not dreaded the difficulties and complications of a whispered conversation in French. If Arg or Clusium were the central seat of the conspiracy, and if the only road from Arg to Seknou was the road that lay in darkness below their balcony, what communication could there have been with Seknou since the ending of the Sabbath and the events of the afternoon?

And the thought suddenly struck him that the mere fact that the Gendarmerie telephone was cut did not necessarily mean that the whole system was out of action.

"Billon!" he whispered urgently, and tugged him by the sleeve.

Allan felt Billon jump in the dark, exactly as a fish gives a tug on the line, as he tumbled to the full beauty of Allan's idea; and he let loose such a torrent of French that Allan had to beg him to go slow. He explained that both of his wireless operators were former employees of the P.T.T. and that one of them was certain to have been a linesman; that the telephone lines ran along the road; and that it should not be impossible, with the equipment in the Gendarmerie, to rig up a tapping set.

Mother's Day Message From Rainbow Rexall Honor Drug Store

A message from Robt. S. Koltner, "Your Pharmacist"

MOTHERS ARE LOVED all year long, but one day each year is always singled out to remind everyone of her importance.

THIS YEAR MAY 12th is Mother's Day. That is when she truly becomes everybody's "Queen for a Day."

"GOD COULD NOT BE EVERYWHERE, and therefore he made Mothers," an old saying tells us. Napoleon said, "The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother."

WE, TOO, WANT TO ADD OUR TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS. We know them well. When they visit our pharmacy it is usually to obtain something for the better health or comfort of their loved ones. We can testify to Mothers' constant devotion.

OUR PHARMACY IS REALLY one of Mother's helpers. We are proud of the fact that she often calls on us for information about the health products we supply.

It doesn't seem so long since she was a little girl herself, picking out a card for her mother on Mother's Day. Yet this morning there was a card at the breakfast table, reading, "To Mommy,
with love..."

On this day, she feels a special meaning as she goes to church with her little girl's white-gloved hand clasped tightly in hers. As they kneel in prayer together a wave of tenderness comes over her, and as she looks at the small figure by her side she at once feels grateful to God for making her a mother, and awed
by the responsibility which is hers.

She prays God to endow her with the qualities all mothers need: common sense, a touch of humor, tenderness, wisdom, the capacity for comfort, a large measure of courage, quick laughter, and just a dash of sternness. And she is deeply thankful that in this, the most important task of her life, she has her Faith and her Church to guide her.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and matterial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Abraham and His God"

May 12, 1957

Genesis 12:1-3; 17:1-9

GOLDEN TEXT: "Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths."

INTRODUCTION — One of the greatest acts of faith in all of world history is before us in the twelfth chapter of Genesis. Here we find Abram, a man of God, amid a people who worshipped false Gods.
Out of all of the people of Ur of the Chaldees (where Iraq is located today) God chose Abraham.
When Abram followed God's command to take his possessions and Ur and go "unto a land that I shall show thee," history was made.
The whole future of the world was affected by the decision.

Abram was to become the founder of a nation and the father of a race of people. Through this nation and this race of people was to come God's Son, Jesus Christ,
who would become man's Savior.
Abram was obedient to God's call. It seems that God has a man for every hour, and God's man is obedient. Abram knew and loved his God!

I. GOD'S BLESSED ASSURANCE

(12:1-3)

It is as true today as it was when Abram walked upon this earth. God blesses obedience! We read in Hebrews 11:8 that Abram
"went out not knowing whither he went." Many men are standing in pulpits today who can literally say the same thing.

Friend, Jesus has said that if you are not willing to turn your back upon mother, father, mate, or children for his sake, that you are not worthy of his love. Jesus demands first place and absolute obedience.

At the rate of 12,000 plants per acre your cost of planting FUNKS G (5.39 acres) is $2.23 per bu. The price difference per bushel on cheap seed corn will never amount to more than 50¢ per acre. Revision of Illinois Egg Law

Final action is coming soon on the Illinois egg law. Illinois egg producers have much to lose if House Bill No. 240 is not enacted. Since immediate action is necessary, we urge egg producers to write their members of the state legislature in support of this bill.

House Bill 240, sponsored by the Illinois State Department of Agriculture, proposes to strengthen the Illinois Egg Law. In addition to the present requirement for candling, this bill would require that effective January 1, 1958, from the time of the sale from the producer to the time of the sale to the ultimate consumer, handlers must keep eggs at a not to exceed 60 degrees temperature. This would require refrigeration during the summer months. Also, the containers, fillers and cartons must be clean. The Department is authorized to enter premises where eggs are kept for inspection purposes and to hold as evidence any eggs which are in violation of the law.

The legislation is supported by the Illinois Agricultural Association, the Illinois Poultry Industry Council and other groups. It is expected to be voted upon in the House next week. It is opposed by operators of some of the small stores who contend that they do not have refrigeration space for handling eggs. They, of course, keep butter, milk and similar products under refrigeration. Some of the members of the legislature are concerned about the effect of this legislation upon "little business men" and ignore the interests of egg producers and consumers.

Illinois ranks 5th in egg production and 42nd in the average price paid farmers. In 1955, the average price paid farmers in Illinois was 6.9¢ per dozen below the U. S. average. This is largely the result of the "poor quality" stigma attached to Illinois eggs. Fertile eggs start to incubate between 65 and 68 degrees. If consumers are to receive good quality eggs, it is necessary not only that they be

First Annual Agronomy Day Thursday, June 27

URBANA—The University of Illinois department of agronomy will be host to the farmers of Illinois on June 27 at the Agronomy South Farm. In announcing this first Agronomy Day, M. B. Russell, head of the department of agronomy, promised an interesting tour and excellent program showing the research work in soils and crops.

Here are some of the things farmers attending Agronomy Day will see: spring out variety tests, winter wheat variety plots, pasture studies showing management of various mixtures, soil moisture studies, including growing corn all season without allowing water to enter the soil, minimum tillage of soil in preparing for corn planting, grain sorghum culture, creeping-rooted alfalfa, different methods of applying nitrogen, effects of phosphate and potash on wheat and soybean variety and disease control studies.

Members of the agronomy staff who are carrying on these research projects will be present to answer questions and report on the progress of their work. Tours of the Agronomy South Farm will begin at 10:00 a. m. and end by about 3:00 p. m. Refreshment will be available on the grounds, or you can bring your own lunch.

So Mark June 27 on your calendar now, and plan to attend Agronomy Day.

Flexible Split-Level Farmhouse Offers Special Features

Here's a split-level plan for a farmhouse that offers many special features.

Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel points out that this plan offers flexible sleeping accommodations ranging from as many as five bedrooms down to two and back again by use of folding walls and lower level when needed.

Kitchen, everyday eating space, laundry area, business center and family living area are all in one open space. All of these centers have a wide view of the driveway and farmstead.

Washup room, chore clothes closet and basement stairs are all next to the rear door farm service entrance. The front entrance is next to the driveway and easy to get to from the kitchen.

Also look at the storage the plan provides. Nearly all of the inside walls are built-in storage.

The plan features simple, compact, economical wall and roof construction that uses standard 4 x 8 feet panel materials and is adapted to paneled construction methods.

This split-level plan was developed by housing specialists in home economics and agricultural engineering at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Complete plans are available in 16 sheets at a cost of $4.00 for the set from the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Urbana. Ask for Plan No. 544.

Baby pigs have been growing on screen floors this spring in tests at the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

A 14 inch plastic tube with a constant supply of running water can carry enough water for 500 piglets on range or a 4-H Club litter of pigs on clean ground.

Rookie Gains Fourth Victory As Phils Beat Pirates, 3-1; Braves Defeat Cards, 10-5

By United Press
Everyone kissed the Phillies off this spring as a club that would put the fans asleep.

There were not so many today as the Phils, winners in six of their last eight games, climbed to within three games of the first place Braves.

Rookie Jack Sanford chalked up his fourth straight victory without a defeat in beating the Pirates, 3-1, Friday night with a three-hit effort.

And Granny Hamner, the guy who was supposed to be all washed up, smacked his second homer since reclaiming his second base job.

Sanford, a returning serviceman who sometimes suffers from numbness in his throwing arm, exhibited a mighty live fast ball in striking out 10 batters. Ronnie Kline went down to his fourth defeat without a victory.

In other National League games Johnny Logan drove in five runs while leading Milwaukee to a 10-5 victory over St. Louis; Willie Mays, fresh out of a hospital, paced the Giants to a 2-1 triumph over the Dodgers. The Cincinnati-Chicago game was postponed by rain.

The White Sox took over sole possession of the American League lead with a 6-4 decision over the Tigers; the Orioles handed the Yankees their third consecutive loss, 4-1; the Indians defeated the Athletics, 4-1, and the game between the Red Sox and Senators was wiped out by rain.

Logan did the damage against the Cards with a home run, two singles and a double as rookie

Juan Pizarro went all the way for the Braves to gain his first major league victory. Pizarro commemorated the occasion with a home run of his own and Ed Mathews also homered for Milwaukee. Ken Boyer and Wally Moon homered for the Cards. The defeat was charged to Sam Jones.

Mays helped the Giants beat teammate Sal Maglie with a triple and two singles. It marked the first time the Giants defeated Maglie since he left them. Ruben Gomez registered his fourth victory.

Southpaw Billy Pierce survived a rocky first inning in which Detroit sent eight men to the plate and scored two runs to nail down his fourth triumph. The White Sox got to rookie Don Lee for single runs in the second and third and a decisive four-run cluster in the fifth. Nellie Fox and Red Wilson hit homers.

Right-hander Connie Johnson of the Orioles posted his first win of the season after four losses in defeating the Yanks. Baltimore clinched the contest in the fifth with a three-run rally off Johnny Kucks. Yogi Berra's fourth home run of the season in the eighth produced the Yankees' only run.

The White Sox took over sole possession of the American League lead with a 6-4 decision over the Tigers; the Orioles handed the Yankees their third consecutive loss, 4-1; the Indians defeated the Athletics, 4-1, and the game between the Red Sox and Senators was wiped out by rain.

THE CHANNEL SWIM Plan Fall Series With Opera Star Patrice Munsell

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — The channel swim...

An automobile company (Buick) has decided to build a half-hour series around opera star Patrice Munsell this fall. The time spot will be Friday night on ABC-TV.

The Bob Crosby afternoon show on CBS-TV is shaky with "You the Jury" beginning to shape up as its replacement. NBC-TV has decided to ditch "Blondie" in favor of "The Court of Last Resort."

"Playhouse 90" is trying to wrangle permission to do the stories of Flo Ziegfeld, John Barrymore and Damon Runyon. Nan Fabray has decided to drop out of "June," a TV series for which she recently cut a pilot film.

Orson Welles pulled a "great man" bit during Steve Allen rehearsals last week. He showed up for rehearsals a couple of days late and didn't even notify Allen of the routine he planned to do until four hours before airtime. Welles finally settled on "Merchant of Venice" after Allen's crew had gnawed their nails down to the knuckles.

ABC-TV is quietly experimenting with video tape on its "Medical Horizons" show. Part of Jackie Gleason's summer replacement looks like old 30-minute Jimmy Durante film shows.

Vic Damone got the nod as Arthur Godfrey's summer replacement on Wednesday nights.

A 30-minute mystery series starring George Sanders will fill in for part of the Sid Caesar show on NBC-TV this summer.

Allotment for Farms With No
Wheat for Three Years

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1955, 1956, and 1957, may apply for a 1958 wheat acreage allotment, according to Herman Driskell, chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by June 30, 1957.

Blank application forms are available at the ASC county office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Ortega Wins Split Decision Over Logart

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Gaspar Ortega, 147, Mexico may have to wait until next November for the welterweight title shot he earned by again scoring an upset, split decision over Cuba's Isaac Logart in their 12-round "rubber" elimination match Friday night.

Lanky Ortega's second triumph in three fights won him recognition as top contender for the 147-pound crown in the eyes of the New York State Athletic Commission, at least.

But managing director Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club said today: "Perhaps Basilio will postpone his next defense until after he challenges Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight title in September."

Twenty-one-year-old Ortega's long-range counter-punching against Logart's close-quarter hooking attack won the votes of Referee Al Berl on a rounds basis 7-4-1 and Judge Harold Barnes, 6-5-1. But Judge Joe Agnello favored Logart, 7-5, as did the United Press, 6-5-1.
